

Description

Summary: Check that validator of the Last Name field of the Product user registration form is working correctly

Steps:

1. On the home page of the Product, click LMB on the Sign Up
2. Enter invalid data in the Last Name field of the registration form for a new user of the Product: «Kooooooooooooooooooooorda »

Actual result:

- The registration form for a new user of the Product is open.
- The Name input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Last Name input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product displays the entered data.
- The Email input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Password input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Re-enter Password input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Register button in the registration form for a new user of the Product is not active.
- The Name input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Last Name input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Email input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Password input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Re-enter Password input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.

Expected result:

- The registration form for a new user of the Product is open.
- The Name input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Last Name input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product displays the entered data.
- The Email input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Password input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Re-enter Password input field of the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display the entered data.
- The Register button in the registration form for a new user of the Product is not active.
- The Name input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Last Name input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product displays an error message about the validity of the entered data: «Name has to be from 2 to 20 characters long»
- The Last Name input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not allow to enter more than 20 characters.
- The Email input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Password input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.
- The Re-enter Password input field in the registration form for a new user of the Product does not display an error message about the validity of the entered data.